

Labour Movement, Employment and Industrial Relations Law in Singapore

Patrick Tay Teck Guan, Member of Parliament, Pioneer SMC
Assistant Secretary-General, National Trades Union Congress (NTUC)

SPEAKER

Patrick Tay LLB '95 LLM '99 is a lawyer by training. After starting his career in the Singapore Police Force, he has been working in the trade union movement since 2002. He is currently Assistant Secretary-General in the NTUC, leading efforts to help all Singaporean workers. He is also the co-chair of the NTUC-SNEF PME Taskforce where he champions the interests of PMEs (professionals, managers and executives) so that they continue to have a level playing field to earn better wages, enjoy better welfare and better work prospects, ultimately protecting the Singaporean Core. Since 2011, he has been involved in the review of most major labour legislation in Singapore such as the Employment Act, Employment Claims Act, the Industrial Relations Act, and the recent Workplace Fairness Legislation. He has also advised and assisted numerous unions and union members on complex legal, employment, and industrial relations matters, including representing them in the Industrial Arbitration Court.

In Parliament, besides being an advocate for PMEs and all workers, Patrick is also active in promoting other causes, having served in the Government Parliamentary Committees (GPCs) for Manpower, Health, Law and Home Affairs during his first two terms in Parliament. He also led the GPC for Manpower from 2015 to 2020 and is currently the GPC Chair for Education, where he champions the enhancement of the education ecosystem in Singapore.

ABOUT THE CENTRE FOR BANKING & FINANCE LAW

The Centre for Banking & Finance Law (CBFL) at the Faculty of Law, National University of Singapore, seeks to generate scholarship and promote thinking about the vibrancy, robustness and soundness of the banking sector, capital markets and other financial services. Through the research our scholars undertake and the events we organise, we seek to create and share knowledge, to engage stakeholders in an exchange of ideas, and to enhance the appreciation of legal and regulatory issues. We aim to bring greater theoretical and analytical clarity to these issues, to examine their policy impact, and to be a catalyst for ideas on how to improve banking and financial systems at the national, regional and global levels.
